NOVACARE EMPLOYEE HANDBOOK

Document status: Hypothetical internal company document. This document is designed for NovaCare's home-maintenance service model and should be reviewed against applicable Sri Lankan employment, privacy, occupational safety and other legal requirements before operational use.

Purpose and Scope

This Employee Handbook establishes the general employment standards, workplace expectations, service principles and people practices of NovaCare Home Maintenance Services. It applies to employees, technicians, field service staff, supervisors, coordinators, administrative personnel and managers unless a written employment agreement or applicable law provides otherwise.

About NovaCare

NovaCare provides home maintenance and related field services to customers at their homes or other approved locations. The company receives customer service requests, records the requirements, schedules work, assigns suitable staff, monitors service progress and closes completed jobs. Because employees represent NovaCare inside customers' homes, professionalism, safety, reliability, respectful conduct and protection of customer property are essential.

Employment Standards

Employees are expected to perform their duties honestly, responsibly and professionally. They must follow lawful management instructions, company procedures, service instructions and safety requirements. Employees must protect company property, customer property, customer information and confidential business information.

Field Service Standards

Field employees must arrive at the assigned location within the scheduled service window, carry required identification and equipment, communicate professionally with customers and complete assigned work to the required standard. Employees must not undertake work outside the approved job scope without authorization from the responsible coordinator or supervisor.

Customer Interaction

Employees must treat customers and household members with courtesy and respect. They must explain relevant work clearly, avoid unnecessary disruption and leave the work area reasonably clean and safe. Employees must not request unauthorized payments, personal benefits or favours from customers.

Attendance and Scheduling

Employees must report for scheduled duties on time and remain available during assigned working hours. If an employee cannot attend or expects to be late, the employee must notify the designated supervisor or coordinator as soon as reasonably possible.

Health and Safety

Employees must follow NovaCare safety procedures, use required personal protective equipment and report hazards, accidents, injuries and unsafe customer-site conditions promptly. Work must be stopped where continuing would create an unacceptable safety risk.

Confidentiality and Data

Employees may have access to customer names, addresses, telephone numbers, service histories, access instructions, photographs and payment-related information. Such information must be used only for legitimate work purposes and must not be disclosed or copied without authorization.

Conduct and Discipline

NovaCare expects respectful conduct and does not tolerate violence, harassment, discrimination, theft, fraud, serious dishonesty, deliberate damage to property or misuse of company or customer information. Concerns will be handled through the applicable company procedure.

Acknowledgement

Employees are expected to read this Handbook, ask HR or management for clarification where necessary and acknowledge that they have received and understood the current version. The Handbook should be reviewed periodically and updated when company practices or legal requirements change.