NOVACARE STANDARD EMPLOYMENT AGREEMENT

Document status: Hypothetical internal company document. This document is designed for NovaCare's home-maintenance service model and should be reviewed against applicable Sri Lankan employment, privacy, occupational safety and other legal requirements before operational use.

Agreement

This hypothetical template is intended for use as a starting point for NovaCare employment documentation and must be adapted and reviewed for the applicable Sri Lankan employment laws, statutory requirements and the specific employee role before use.

Parties and Position

The agreement should identify NovaCare Home Maintenance Services as the employer and the employee by full legal name. It should state the job title, reporting relationship, primary work location or service area and the general duties attached to the position.

Duties

The employee agrees to perform assigned duties with reasonable skill, care and diligence, follow lawful instructions and comply with applicable company policies. Field employees may be required to travel to customer locations within the service area.

Working Hours and Scheduling

Normal working hours, rest periods, scheduled shifts, overtime arrangements and any applicable on-call requirements should be stated clearly. Actual arrangements must comply with applicable law and approved company policy.

Compensation

The agreement should specify the agreed basic salary or wage, applicable allowances, approved overtime treatment and payment frequency. Any deductions must be made only where legally permitted and properly authorized.

Probation and Confirmation

Where a probationary period applies, its duration, review process and confirmation arrangements should be stated. Confirmation should be based on satisfactory performance, conduct, attendance, capability and business requirements.

Leave

The employee will receive leave and statutory benefits in accordance with applicable law and NovaCare policy. Leave should normally be requested and approved through the company's established process.

Confidentiality

The employee must protect confidential customer and company information during employment and after employment to the extent legally enforceable. Confidential information must not be copied, disclosed or used for unauthorized purposes.

Safety and Customer Service

The employee must comply with safety requirements and customer-site procedures. Work must be performed within the approved scope, and safety or service concerns must be escalated promptly.

Termination and Final Settlement

Notice requirements, termination arrangements, final salary, return of company property and other separation matters should be handled according to the contract, company procedure and applicable law.

Acceptance

The final agreement should include the signatures and dates of the employer’s authorized representative and the employee, together with any required acknowledgement of company policies.
