NOVACARE COMPENSATION AND BENEFITS POLICY

Document status: Hypothetical internal company document. This document is designed for NovaCare's home-maintenance service model and should be reviewed against applicable Sri Lankan employment, privacy, occupational safety and other legal requirements before operational use.

Purpose

This policy establishes principles for administering employee pay and benefits consistently and transparently. Specific monetary amounts should be maintained in approved salary structures rather than embedded in this general policy.

Compensation Principles

NovaCare aims to maintain compensation arrangements that reflect role responsibilities, relevant skills, experience, performance, operational requirements and applicable market and legal considerations.

Payroll

Employees should receive salary or wages through the approved payroll process at the established pay frequency. Payroll records must accurately reflect approved salary, attendance-related adjustments, authorized deductions and applicable statutory contributions.

Overtime

Where overtime is authorized, it should be recorded and compensated according to applicable law, the employee's contract and NovaCare's approved overtime rules. Employees should not assume that unapproved additional hours will automatically qualify for overtime payment.

Allowances

Approved allowances may apply to eligible roles or expenses such as travel or field-related requirements. Eligibility and reimbursement conditions should be communicated clearly.

Incentives

NovaCare may operate performance or service incentives where approved. Any incentive should have documented eligibility conditions and should not encourage unsafe work, unauthorized charges or manipulation of service records.

Salary Review

Salary reviews may consider performance, role changes, market conditions, business affordability and internal equity. A review does not automatically create an entitlement to an increase unless expressly provided by contract or law.

Benefits

Employee benefits will be provided according to approved company schemes, contractual terms and applicable statutory requirements. HR should communicate eligibility and administrative procedures.

Confidentiality

Individual salary and benefits information should be accessed only by authorized personnel with a legitimate business need and handled as confidential employee information.