NOVACARE PERFORMANCE MANAGEMENT POLICY

Document status: Hypothetical internal company document. This document is designed for NovaCare's home-maintenance service model and should be reviewed against applicable Sri Lankan employment, privacy, occupational safety and other legal requirements before operational use.

Purpose

This policy provides a structured approach to setting expectations, reviewing employee performance, recognizing good performance and addressing performance gaps.

Performance Expectations

Employees should understand the responsibilities and standards applicable to their roles. For field service staff, expectations may include job quality, attendance, punctuality, safety compliance, accurate records, customer communication and responsible use of equipment.

Goal Setting

Managers should establish practical role-related objectives at the beginning of the review period. Objectives should be clear enough for employees to understand what successful performance requires.

Feedback

Managers should provide regular feedback rather than waiting until a formal review. Feedback should identify what was done well, what requires improvement and what support or action is expected.

Formal Review

Performance reviews should consider documented work results, relevant customer feedback, attendance, conduct, safety performance, teamwork and role-specific requirements. Reviews should be evidence-based and should distinguish performance concerns from unrelated personal matters.

Development

Where an employee has a skill gap, the manager should consider coaching, training, supervised practice or other reasonable support before concluding that the employee cannot meet the role requirements.

Performance Improvement

Where performance remains below the required standard, NovaCare may establish a documented improvement plan specifying the concern, expected standard, support, review period and consequences of insufficient improvement.

Recognition

Strong performance may be recognized through feedback, development opportunities, increased responsibility or approved reward mechanisms. Recognition should be applied consistently.

Records and Confidentiality

Performance records should be factual, relevant and securely maintained. Employees should have an appropriate opportunity to discuss review outcomes.
