NOVACARE GRIEVANCE AND COMPLAINT HANDLING POLICY

Document status: Hypothetical internal company document. This document is designed for NovaCare's home-maintenance service model and should be reviewed against applicable Sri Lankan employment, privacy, occupational safety and other legal requirements before operational use.

Purpose

NovaCare provides employees with a structured route to raise workplace concerns, seek clarification and request appropriate resolution.

Scope

A grievance may relate to workplace treatment, working arrangements, harassment, discrimination, management conduct, pay or benefits, safety, scheduling, workload or another employment-related concern.

Informal Resolution

Where appropriate and safe, employees are encouraged to raise concerns early with their supervisor or HR. Informal discussion should not be used where the concern involves serious misconduct or where the employee reasonably believes informal discussion is inappropriate.

Formal Grievance

A formal grievance should be submitted through the designated HR or management channel and should describe the concern and relevant facts as clearly as possible. Supporting information may be provided where available.

Acknowledgement and Investigation

The company should acknowledge the grievance, determine the appropriate process and investigate relevant facts fairly. Investigations should be conducted by an appropriately impartial person where practicable.

Confidentiality

Information should be shared only with people who need it to manage the matter. Absolute confidentiality cannot always be guaranteed, particularly where investigation requires information from other individuals.

Protection from Retaliation

Employees should not be subjected to retaliation for raising a genuine concern or participating honestly in an investigation. Concerns about retaliation should be reported promptly.

Outcome

The employee should receive an appropriate outcome or explanation after the matter has been considered, subject to confidentiality obligations affecting other employees.

Records

Grievance records should be stored securely and retained according to the company's record-retention requirements.
