NOVACARE TRAINING AND DEVELOPMENT POLICY

Document status: Hypothetical internal company document. This document is designed for NovaCare's home-maintenance service model and should be reviewed against applicable Sri Lankan employment, privacy, occupational safety and other legal requirements before operational use.

Purpose

This policy establishes how NovaCare identifies employee capability needs and provides training and development opportunities that support safe, reliable and customer-focused service.

Training Needs

Training needs may arise from new equipment, new services, changes in procedures, performance gaps, safety incidents, customer feedback, regulatory requirements or employee development plans.

Induction

New employees should complete an induction before independently performing relevant duties. Induction should cover company values, customer service, job systems, attendance, confidentiality, safety and role-specific procedures.

Technical Training

Field staff should receive appropriate technical training for the services they are authorized to perform. Training should distinguish between basic maintenance tasks and work requiring specialist qualifications or authorization.

Safety Training

Safety training should address the hazards relevant to each role, including appropriate use of tools and protective equipment, customer-site risk assessment, emergency response and incident reporting.

Customer Service Training

Employees should understand professional communication, appointment etiquette, respectful conduct in customer homes, handling complaints and protecting customer property and privacy.

Training Approval

External or paid training should normally require appropriate management approval based on business relevance, budget and operational requirements.

Training Records

HR should maintain appropriate records of training completed, relevant certificates, dates and identified follow-up requirements. Sensitive personal information should be handled securely.

Evaluation

Where practical, NovaCare should assess whether training has improved knowledge, behaviour, technical capability or service outcomes. Managers should reinforce learning through coaching and supervised application.
