NOVACARE EMPLOYEE SEPARATION AND EXIT POLICY

Document status: Hypothetical internal company document. This document is designed for NovaCare's home-maintenance service model and should be reviewed against applicable Sri Lankan employment, privacy, occupational safety and other legal requirements before operational use.

Purpose

This policy establishes a controlled process for employee resignation, termination and other forms of separation. It aims to protect employees' rights, customer continuity, company property, information and operational records.

Resignation

Employees who resign should provide written notice in accordance with their employment agreement and applicable law. HR should acknowledge the resignation and confirm the expected final working date.

Handover

Before departure, employees should complete an appropriate handover of open customer jobs, schedules, tools, documents, access credentials and other responsibilities. Field employees must ensure that unfinished service matters are transferred to the designated coordinator.

Company Property

Employees must return company-issued equipment, uniforms, identification, keys, tools, devices, documents and other property. Any outstanding property issue should be recorded and resolved through the appropriate process.

Customer and Company Information

Departing employees must not retain, copy or use customer lists, addresses, access instructions, photographs, service records, passwords or confidential company information for unauthorized purposes after employment.

Final Pay and Benefits

HR and payroll should calculate final salary, approved reimbursements, lawful deductions and applicable benefits or statutory entitlements in accordance with the employment agreement and applicable law.

Exit Interview

Where practical, NovaCare may conduct an exit interview to understand reasons for departure, operational concerns, management issues, training needs and opportunities for improvement. Participation and handling of information should follow company procedures.

Access Removal

System, email, application and physical access should be reviewed and removed or adjusted promptly when employment ends, according to the employee's final working arrangements.

Employment Documentation

NovaCare should provide employment or service-related documentation where required or appropriate under applicable law and company procedure.

Record Retention

Separation records should be retained securely for the applicable retention period. Access should be limited to authorized personnel.
